Science Technician

This is a superb opportunity for someone with energy and commitment to join our dynamic, forward-thinking and expanding school.

Reporting to the Senior Science Technician the Science Technician provides efficient technical support to the teaching staff including the maintenance and upkeep of the laboratories, to enable them to concentrate on their primary task of teaching. As a vital member of the Science Department this is a unique and flexible role which, in addition to preparing equipment for the teaching staff fulfils an organisational role crucial to the smooth running of science at Radnor House.

Experience in a similar role would be advantageous but training will be provided. Excellent communication skills, accuracy and attention to detail will be required along with a high standard of written and spoken English. Successful candidates will need to be reliable and flexible with a real 'can-do' attitude.

Radnor House is a 9-18, selective, co-educational, independent day school set in historic buildings on the banks of the River Thames in Twickenham, just thirty minutes from Central London. It was judged as 'Excellent' in all categories by the Independent Schools Inspectorate in February 2020. The relatively small size of the school (c.440 pupils) enables us to focus on the individual needs of all our pupils, fostering a supportive and collaborative community where pupil success is regularly celebrated.

On offer is a term-time only contract with a very competitive salary with excellent professional development opportunities alongside benefits including free school lunches, Pilates, cycle-to-work scheme, pension and life assurance.
